

KEEPING HEALTH PROVIDERS INFORMED MEANS BETTER CARE FOR YOU.

Patient Consent. It's Your Decision.

Healthix is a trusted resource in patient health information.

Healthix shares patient information electronically and securely, to improve the quality of care.

If You Give Consent

You are allowing your healthcare providers to access your personal health information in the delivery of your care.

If You Deny Consent

Your medical information will not be available to healthcare providers, even in the case of emergency.

If I Don't Make A Decision

Your medical record will be accessible in the case of an emergency to key providers (i.e., ER physician), if you can't provide or deny consent at that time.

How Will Your Information Be Used?

Information is used only by your healthcare team to provide you with medical treatment and related services,

Where Does Information Come From and What Types Of Information Is Shared?

Whenever you receive healthcare from a participating provider such as a hospital, nursing home, physician, home care nurse or lab, your unique medical record is automatically updated. Data shared includes previous diagnoses, encounters, medications, allergies, labs, as well as sensitive information such as HIV status, substance abuse and any other medical information in your medical records.

Privacy Protection

Healthix follows New York State and Federal privacy and confidentiality laws, and is funded and regulated by the New York State Department of Health. Healthix only allows providers access to your information if they are involved in your care and you have granted consent. Healthix maintains safeguards to protect your medical information.

